THE QUICK FEET.

The Evils of the Ballroom and of the Dance.

All is brilliant during such an existence until the light of dawn breaks in on the room. Values of the body and death tears away the mask.

Rev. Dr. Talnage has selected as the subject of Sunday's sermon, "The Quick Feet." The text chosen being "The feet of the man of God are swift as a deer's." When Herod's birthday was kept the daughter of Herodias danced before him, and pleased Herod.

The anniversary of Herod's birthday. The palace is lighted. The highways leading thereto are all ablaze with the pomp of invited guests. Lords, captains, merchant princes, the mighty men of the land are coming to mingle in the festivities. The table is spread with all the luxuries of the East. The guests are seated. The music is playing. The fiddlers are the ministers of the devil.

POUL ASSASSINATION.

We are in receipt of information to the effect that Judge J. H. Combs, aged 65 years, was assassinated, by unknown parties, at his home in Hazard, Perry county, at about 7 o'clock Sunday morning the 25th ult. The parties were concealed in a cornfield on the opposite side of the street from his dwelling. Some unknown men were seen running away from the place where the shooting was done. Judge Combs was the father-in-law of J. O. Edwards, who was killed by the French faction some time ago. Two efforts were made to kill him in May by shooting; both shots however hit the door casing when he was standing. The killing of this man will more than likely bring to the front the French-Edwards feud that so long has troubled the section of the State, and undoubtedly more blood will be shed. It does seem as though the time was ripe for the State of Kentucky to put an end to these vendettas; they save too much of the dark ages, and in those days of enlightenment and civil liberty should not be tolerated. LATER—The officers pursued the murderers and found the leader, to be Jesse Fields. When the officers came upon them a terrible fight ensued, in which several of the posse were wounded. Fields was shot through the leg, but finally, in company with his companions, escaped. The end is not in sight.

THE GERMAN CATHOLIC CONGRESS CLOSED.

The Deutsch-Katholik entag or German Catholic Congress which has been in session at the Auditorium in Louisville, closed its second open session Wednesday night, the 26th inst. Addresses were made by Mr. M. Abels, of Covington, Mr. Edward Neumann, editor of the Glanbeiseler, after which a telegram from the Pope was read sending his apostolic benediction on the assembled Congress. This was greeted with three cheers of "Hoch," "Hoch," "Hoch." The Congress adopted resolutions putting the German Catholics in opposition to socialism, and total abstinence; in favor of temperance, of sectarian schools, without any assistance from the State; of a press for the support of the German Catholic religion and of perfect loyalty to the Pope and Apostolic Delegate.

A LADY LAWYER, "THE TATTLE" IN THE LOUISVILLE TIMES HAS THE FOLLOWING TO SAY RELATIVE TO A YOUNG LADY FROM SHELBY COUNTY WHO HAS RECENTLY MADE AN ENTRY INTO A SPHERE OF ACTION THAT HAS HERETOFORE BEEN RECOGNIZED IN KENTUCKY AS BEING THE PROPERTY OF GENTLEMEN ONLY. MISS O'CONNOR IS ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL ORATORS OF THE DAY; BUT HER AMBITION URGED UPON HER THE STEP RECENTLY TAKEN.

"One of the belles of the Y. M. I. reception at Music Hall last evening was Miss Nora O'Connor, who has just been admitted to practice at the bar. Miss O'Connor is a tall, stylish looking girl, with any amount of independence, and is determined to make a success of her profession. She has been eight years studying law, but until recently lacked the courage to take the final plunge into the vortex of public life.

"But," said she, in her bright, breezy way, "I nerved myself to do so at last and now I am glad of it. If a woman wants to succeed now she has to strike out in a direction unknown to her before. All the old pursuits are hackneyed and no longer offer women a field for their energy, and it is only people with conservative views with regard to my sex who have anything to say against a woman's striking out for herself. If she fails she fails, and there's an end of it. If she succeeds, she will get credit for it in the long run, and from the least approving individual."

GENERAL W. WARD DUFFIELD, OF PINEVILLE, WAS RECENTLY APPOINTED TO A LUCRATIVE POSITION UNDER THE GOVERNMENT; I. E. SUPERINTENDENT OF THE COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY TO SUCCEED PROF. T. C. Mendenhall resigned. The position is a civil engineer of note, and as an army officer has a fine record. At one time during the war he was in command of all the U. S. troops in Kentucky; has been employed in dividing public lands in Dakota; has represented his home district in Michigan as Senator, was chief engineer of the K. U. R. R., and located its line to Hazard at one time, and is the author of a military work entitled "School of Brigade and Evolution of the Line." His appointment is looked upon with favor, and is considered a compliment to a worthy man.

DAVID B. HILL was nominated for Governor of New York by acclamation last Wednesday. Not one dissenting vote out of the 383. Daniel W. Lockwood, of Buffalo, for the office of Lieutenant Governor, Judge Gaylord for Judge of the Court of Appeals. The nominees Hill and Lockwood were renounced at the Knickerbocker Hotel at Albany and Senator Hill made a few appropriate remarks to the assembled thousands who had quickly gathered. The scene is said to have been one that will long be remembered in the capital city of the Empire State.

The Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute closed its fifth annual session, which was held at Music Hall in Louisville last week, on Wednesday. This institute is a Catholic organization, which meets with the approval of the Pope Leo XIII. and has received his blessing. The organization is a secret one, and is for Catholics only. The object is fraternal and benevolent. Kenneth is well represented in the list of Grand officers elected. The next meeting will be held at Indianapolis, Ind.

THERE will be a grand rally and huge barbecue at Duncan Heights, Nicholasville, on Wednesday, October 17th, in the interest of the party of Jefferson, Jackson, Tilden and Cleveland, and many distinguished speakers will be present to break bread with the honest Democrats of Jessamine and expand the pure tenets of the Democratic party.

NEVER ENOUGH FOR ANYTHING.

A BOY WHO COULD NOT BE FRIGHTENED BY A DISPLEASANT CONDUCT OF A FRODO'S TRICKS.
Dr. McTavish of Edinburgh was something of a ventriloquist, and it belied that he wanted a lad to assist in the surgery who must necessarily be of strong nerves. He received several applications, and when telling a lad what the duties were, in order to test his nerves, he would say, while pointing to a grinning skeleton standing upright in a corner, "Part of your work would be to feed the skeleton there, and while you are here you may as well try to do so."

A few lads would consent to a trial and received a basin of hot gruel and a spoon. While they were pouring the hot gruel into the skull the doctor would throw his voice so as to make it appear to proceed from the jaws of the boy, customer and gruel out, "Be-r-r-r, that's hot!"

This was too much, and without exception the lads dropped the basin and bolted. The doctor began to despair of ever getting a suitable helpmate until a small boy came and was given the gruel and spoon.

After the first spoonful the skeleton appeared to say, "Gr-r-r-r, that's hot!" Shivering in the scalding gruel as fast as ever, the lad rapped the skull and impudently retorted, "Well, blow it, can't you, yer old boy!"

HORSE NOTES.

The Pilot Medium colt, B. B. P., won the Clark's Horse Review Stake, worth $21,575, at Terre Haute, Ind.
September 12th at Galesburg the great mare Alix won the world's record by trotting a mile in 2:03. The 2 minute horse is coming and "don't you forget it!"

Pepper's sale of race horses at the Gravesend race track on the 22d brought an average price of $1,200. The b. c. Pepper by Hindoo, dam Francesca, brought $3,000. Emerald 2 b. c. by Hindoo, dam Miss Udd, $1,750; the Queen 5 b. c. by King Alphonso, dam India, $1,500, and several others at prices ranging from $1,500 down to $500.

In a recent interview with a prominent horse fancier, he gives it as his opinion that the raising of fast horses has taken a new feature in Madison county, from the fact that horse men are now on account of a livelier and trained mare on account of personal pride in owning a fast animal than for the money there was in the business. This has now changed and the fast horse is bred and trained for the money that can be made out of the transaction. "Not that we love Cesar less, but Rome doesn't," there is a great change in the money owned in Madison county, and while we think our friend is right to a great extent, the fact is that we still have some persons who breed the horse for the love of the animal. The tendency now seems to be to breed not alone for speed, but for size and appearance. It was once the case when if an animal only had the speed it was all right, no matter how ungainly, but this has changed, and a good looking animal is sought for among the fast stock as well as elsewhere.

THE DOCTRINE OF KARMA.

So far as may be known, the doctrine of Karma, if not the central tenet of theosophy, is at least, one of its most vital principles of faith. Karma has been variously defined as retribution, punishment, or reward, a settlement of accounts in the world to come, and divine vengeance. In fact it is neither of these, but partaking of all. It may be called the immutable balance of things; or, yet more accurately, cause and effect. Sin brings an infliction of certain laws of universal existence, brings about itself, the results of all broken laws. Right living, being in accordance with the law, is followed by the results of all law abiding i. e., peace, contentment, comfort, and self-satisfaction. Mere negative obedience, however, to certain laws, is not enough. The law of existence lies upon a very high plane. To do good to the welfare of our neighbor, to forgive injuries, to practice rectitude, to be pure in act and thought, to elevate and ennoble one's ideas, to love mankind, as well as all living things, to avoid injuring even the lowest of human beings or the most loathsome of animals, to strive constantly and earnestly toward that higher life, whose yearnings, however faint and suppressed, we all, even the worst of us, feel in our souls,—these create good Karma. Whereas the opposite, selfishness, immorality, cruelty, vengeance, meanness, and a yielding to the downward or degrading tendency, which exists side by side with the aspiring tendency in humanity, would generate bad Karma.

But Karma neither begins with the first ends with the one to come. It has always been, and always will be, for any individual. Within certain limits, our thoughts and deeds here are the children of an infinite line of ancestry. These are molded by that degree of free will which is permitted to the soul, aside from the conditions of its previous existence. Hence, ultimately, no matter how heavily the sins of a past life may weigh upon us, it is possible for us to make good Karma, and thus advance upward path. Humanity speaking,—for the evolution of humanity, included in the theosophic cosmos, comprehended ages that span the intellect,—we do advance; though ultimately, and after a period that is almost eternity, we come around through the circle and chain of circles again and yet again. In Karma, therefore, the law of cause and effect, the law of retribution, cannot grasp this truth,—we are of course quoting the theosophic authorities,—but must be led up to it by degrees.—"From 'What is Theosophy?' by DeForest MacFadden, October.

FITZSIMMONS DONE HIM UP.

TWO BOXING, KNOCKOUT.
The glove contest between the Australians, Fitzsimmons and Creedon, which took place in the arena of the Olympic Club at New Orleans, for a purse of $5,000, Wednesday night, resulted in the complete discomfiture of Creedon. Round One—both men felt for each other for an opening. Fitzsimmons led. He was short, however, but he forced the fighting and landed a hard right on the head, and Creedon scored a hard body blow. A moment later Creedon caught a left on the chin, and one, two, three on the head. The men had to be separated by the referee. Creedon ducked beautifully from a right on the head.

Round Two—Creedon missed a light left wing for the head, but he landed two rights on the body. Fitz scored two heavy rights and knocked Creedon with a heavy right hand on the jaw.

Fitz landed heavily right on the jaw and the men had to be forced from a clinch. Creedon received two heavy rights on the jaw and three rights on the body. Creedon knocked out by a heavy left on the jaw.

There was the wildest demonstration ever seen in the ring. Referee Duffy announced Fitz's challenge to Champion Corbett. The applause that followed was immense.

The work of Fitz in the second round was the most marvelous ever seen in this section of the country. The three right-handers which Creedon received on the head in one, two, three order amazed the spectators and dazed the recipient, but they were nothing from an artistic pugilist point of view compared with the three heavy lefts delivered in the one, two, three order on Creedon's nose, which floored the latest aspirant for middleweight honors. The main fighting of the battle was done in the center of the ring, the river sand of which was plowed up more by the foot work of the two men in the actual fighting time, which was four minutes and forty seconds, than it was ever before.

Creedon was carried to his corner gasping for breath and showing traces of blood trickling from his nose. He was comparatively unharmed during the first round, and went to his corner smiling happily and clapping with his attendants. The inference then is that he was beaten in one minute and forty seconds, the time of the second round.

Win. A. Scholle, of the Olympic Club, telegraphed Corbett that before the fight was over, Jim Hall, of Louisville, telegraphed for a match with Fitzsimmons. Corbett says "I will say nothing about Fitzsimmons at the present. He must meet Steve O'Donnell first before I will notice him."

Win. A. Scholle, of the Olympic Club, telegraphed Corbett that before the fight was over, Jim Hall, of Louisville, telegraphed for a match with Fitzsimmons. Corbett says "I will say nothing about Fitzsimmons at the present. He must meet Steve O'Donnell first before I will notice him."

OLD GRUMBLER.

There is as much religion in an opera as there is in some houses where men call themselves ministers and who mean to preach the true gospel of Jesus Christ.

If we were to follow the doctrine of some preachers we would lay around in the shade and starve to death.

If we were to try to follow all the plans of salvation that are preached nowadays, where would we land?

If you want to cross the ocean in safety look at the ship, yourself; do not depend altogether on what other men say about its condition.

If you want some particular business attended to, go and look after it yourself; if you don't want it attended to send some one else.

The stars are very bright, but they do not bring daylight.

The man who undertakes to make his living by gambling is on a rough dirt road to the poor house.

The best meal of victuals in the world is one that is well seasoned and cooked done and when there is a woman sitting near the coffee pot having a smile on her face, and one of the best men in the world is he who provides plenty of everything for his wife to cook. This is part of our religion.

A friend of mine met me on the street the other day and said he would give $10,000 if he had my complexion. I said to him that he could get it in a short time and without cost: he said please tell him how, and I told him to leave his drinking spirits a while, and his natural color would return, and he would then have as fine a complexion as mine.

Every man has follies enough in his own mind, troubles enough in the performance of his duties, deficiencies enough in his own character, evils enough in his own life without being curious about the affairs of others.

"KEEP A-GOIN'!"
If you strike a rose or rose,
Keep a-goin'!
If you strike a rose or rose,
Keep a-goin'!

"Tain't no use to sit an' whine
When the hah ain't on your line;
But your look an' keep on tryin'—
Keep a-goin'!"

When the weather kills your crop,
Keep a-goin'!
When you tumble from the top,
Keep a-goin'!

Spoke you're out o' every dime?
Gettin' broke ain't no crime;
Tell the world you're feelin' prime!
Keep a-goin'!"

When it looks like all is up,
Keep a-goin'!
When you're out of the cup,
Keep a-goin'!

See the wild birds on the wing,
Hear the bells that sweetly ring,
When you ain't nothin'—sing!
Keep a-goin'!"

If you are out of a job,
Do not sit a knot on a log,
Keep a-goin'!
You see the sun is shining,
And the vagabonds are whining,
Keep a-goin'!"

THE "DOE."
It may be nothing more than a mere flippancy of Americanism, an outcropping of the common weakness for abbreviation, having nothing sinister back of it, but it is very disagreeable, just the same.

We have reference to the habit which some people seem to call their physician "Doc." The physician who does not, mentally or orally, resent the application, has not the true instinct of his profession. It is a comforting fact that while a worthy practitioner may occasionally be greeted as "Doc," by some smart Aleck, those whom the community respect are seldom greeted thus. A self-respecting physician feels honored when called "Doctor," and it's only because he respects the feeling of his patients that he is self-respecting that he doesn't knock the fellow down who calls him "Doc."

A writer in the National Medical Review has some good things on this subject:

"A man may be called a liar, a cheat, a knave, and yet be a physician, and live upon the fat of the land. But if he is called 'Doc,' and his professional success is at an end. We would prefer to see a night in the station house, so far as its effects on our professional success is concerned, rather than to have our friends notice our approach by saying 'There comes Doc.'"

If a man calls you "Doc," you need never expect a penny from him for any professional service you could render. His answer is sure to be, "All right, Doc, in a few days that will be all right." "Doc" means disaster. "Doc" is the culmination of all calamity. "Doc" is a catastrophe given at one stroke. "Doc" is the warning that the hand has reached the extreme limit of our usefulness. "Doc" is the hand which points us to the next town.—Therapy.

It is a combination ticket having all the stations on it, and save away with the separate tickets which have heretofore been issued to each station along the line."

Judge French Tipton, ganger at the Silver Creek distilleries, ex-actor, &c., has discovered a simple, but effective rule for proving the proof and taxable gallons, which is highly recommended by Collector G. Interior-Journal.

The story is told of a Harrodsburg clergyman who was anxious to refer to a book called "Seekers After God." Browsing bookstores and libraries in vain for it, he recalled to mind that a Richmond friend, also a clergyman, had frequently quoted from it, so he wrote to him to look him up in that city and buy the book for him as soon as possible. By telegram, came the startling reply: "No Seekers After God in Richmond."

Judge Scott is on the bench at the September session of the Clark County Circuit Court. Work was commenced promptly, but there was some delay afterwards, caused by a political gathering. Four horse thieves and two burglar are confined in the jail and will doubtless be duly sentenced to serve time for their misdeeds.

E. V. Elder reports that Mrs. Fred Reily was the fortunate possessor of the key to the "Fortune Box." She was overjoyed at the good luck in getting the $25. One neighbor states that Mrs. Reily has made up her mind to purchase a new set of teeth with the money. Jerry Powell suggests that if she do this she ought to chew up every man in town who does not advise Mrs. Elder to give away with purchases over 1,000 keys. He has another box on, with the same amount of wealth, that some one will get the next week.

Don't shoot any quail until after November 15th. Thus said the W. I. If you don't pay attention thereto you may have to pay dollars to some brazen minion of the Commonwealth.

Pattie the 10-year-old daughter of Mary Ann White, colored, of Winchester, was visiting a friend of the latter on First street Sunday last, and the child accidentally fell into an uncovered cistern, about 9 feet in depth. The child's mother was at meeting, but an alarm was raised, and soon a large crowd came to the rescue. There is two or three feet of water in the cistern, and the girl was not injured, only frightened.

Saturday morning the 19th inst., Amour, the 8-year-old son of Mrs. Pattie White, of Dayton, was accidentally caught by the fingers of his left hand in a sugar mill and his hand and arm to the elbow were drawn in and crushed into an unrecognizable mass. Dr. J. W. Harris, of Union City, we are informed, performed the amputation. It will be remembered by the readers of the CLIMAX that last winter Amour, son of Mrs. White's, aged about eighteen, while cutting timber for wood, felled a tree, and in getting it down was killed. Mrs. White has the sympathy of the community in this, her new affliction.

Gene to Rest. Dr. Coleman C. Christopher, of Waco, died Wednesday morning, the 26th inst., of paralysis. He was 29 years of age, was a son of Dr. John Christopher, deceased, who was one of the most popular physicians of the county. The Doctor leaves quite a family to mourn his loss. The interment took place near Waco, under the auspices of Madison Lodge No. 141 O. O. F.

Attention. T. J. Smith, assignee for Dr. Giles Harrell, will sell a number of fine town lots in Paducah, and a tract of land in Estill, part of the Freeman farm, to close out the trust. The sale will be without reserve or limit. Here is a rare chance for good bargains. Terms liberal and made known on the day of sale. Don't forget the date 10 o'clock a. m., Tuesday October 16th. A. G. Daniel, auctioneer.

New Ads. Wallace & Rice, in their new and attractive advertisement in another column have something to say of special interest to everybody. By all means go there and try if you want the very best for the least money.

Ed Rowland solicits your orders for coal. Read his ad, and govern yourself accordingly. He will treat you right; he doesn't know how to do otherwise.

And now come White & Gibson with a handsome display of ads, which is full of meaning. Call and see them.

Court Sales. Cattle.—About 1,200 head of various kinds were offered, about two-thirds of which found purchasers at prices ranging from $2 to $3 cents.

Mules.—Cattle sold at various prices, some few bringing $55, and others ranging as low as $20. About 20 work mules were sold at prices ranging from $60 to $110. A few extras brought $125. This is a marked improvement in prices.

Horses.—But few horses were sold. No buyers were at the market. Good horses ranged at from $75 to $125. Good horses would have sold for good prices. About 120,000 cut shingles were offered on the markets and brought low prices. Some sales are recorded as low as $1.25 per thousand.

Prohibition Convention. The prohibition party held a Convention at the Glade Christian church, near Berea, Friday and Saturday September 28th and 29th, and called in nomination the following ticket for county officers. The Convention was held to order by J. W. Chaney, County Chairman, who was elected as permanent chairman. Mason Jones was elected Secretary.

The nominees are: County Judge—John P. Long. County Clerk—Wm. Baumgartner. Sheriff—James F. Moore. Assessor—J. P. Bicknell. Surveyor—J. W. Moore.

The proceedings of the Convention were interspersed with devotional exercises and addresses by E. G. Dodge, Rev. S. F. Kelley and Prof. A. S. Voiers. A general good time was enjoyed by all the delegates.

The Valley View Murder. Jesse Howard, of Valley View, who shot and killed Robert Jones on the 19th ult., was given an examination before Judge Phillips and held over to Circuit Court under $10,000 bond, in default of which he was taken to jail. The facts developed on the trial go to show that the principals in the encounter and others were drinking, and this crime may be put down to the account of King Alcohol.

The results are that the father of a family of small children and husband of a poor weak infirm wife, in jail with the blood of his fellow-man on his hands and a future before him full of dark probabilities. And a young man who was or should have been the support of a widowed mother and other members of the family cut off in his young manhood.

And where is his son? We shall comment on the subject no longer; it bears its sad moral so plainly that all may see and read.

To Cleanse The System. Effectually yet gently, when constipated, or when the blood is impure or sluggish, to permanently cure habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to a healthy activity, without irritating or weakening them, to dispel head aches, colds or fevers, use Syrup of Figs.

A Grand Revival of Religion. Rev. A. J. Pike, pastor of the Baptist Church at Glade, assisted by Rev. A. V. Sizemore of Stanford, have just closed a two weeks' meeting. It was one of the most successful meetings ever held in the county, there being no less than 100 new members. Old enemies have reconciled their differences, giving God the praise. All denominations were in general well pleased, and worked for the success of the meeting. The large audience showed their appreciation of the services by contributing liberally to their support at the close of the meeting.

Hard on Winchester. A jealous Mr. Sterling man told the following story recently:

While coming up on a K. C. train from Cincinnati it ran over a polecat near Austeritz, and as the scent penetrated the nostrils of some of the passengers for Winchester they gathered up their baggage, preparatory to disembarking. On being told that the train had not yet reached Winchester, they explained that they recognized the familiar smell of the water-work water, and supposed they were at Winchester. Of course nobody will place credence in this story. Our water supply was simply horrible the past summer, but the improvements made and new filter added at the works now give us the best water in Central Kentucky.—Democrat.

Gov. McCreary at Crab Orchard. A good crowd gathered at Crab Orchard Tuesday to hear Gov. McCreary's speech, which was brim full of sound arguments and pure Democratic doctrine. He first apologized for the absence of his competitors, stating that Dr. Roberts, according to his own statement, could not speak. Mr. Demaree had exhausted himself at Lancaster the afternoon before, and Mr. Thomas, the populist, had, he supposed, given up the ghost. He then discussed the tariff bill, told what he believed had done, gave his reasons for believing that better times were ahead, and wound up with an eloquent appeal to the Democrats for their undivided support of the entire ticket at the November election. His speech was well received and will have a telling effect at the proper time. The Governor will next address the people of Lincoln county at the court-house October 30th.

The following day, October 30th, he will speak at Hustonsville on the 10th. Each day at 1 o'clock.—Interior-Journal.

FOUR KENTUCKY HUNTERS. The Al. M. E. conference of Kentucky was in session at the United Baptist Church, in this place last week, Bishop W. A. Gaines, of Atlanta, presiding. A large attendance is reported, and the reports show a decided progress over last year.

The Rev. Dr. George S. Savage says that the Kentucky Bible Society, organized in 1817, is the sixtieth society of the world. The early Governors of Kentucky were its successive Presidents for a number of years. In 1816 it was merged into the American Bible Society. During its independent existence it distributed 6,000 Bibles throughout Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Louisiana.—Courier-Journal.

Teachers' Association. The Madison County Teachers' Association met at Runyon Grove, Saturday September 22, 1894. R. F. Scudder, Vice-President, occupied the chair. Exercises were opened with song and prayer and the following teachers enrolled:

R. F. Scudder, W. S. Griffith, J. W. Edwards, Barrell Moore, C. F. Brock, J. E. Lanter, J. D. Clark, J. H. Wilson, H. P. Lewis, Rebecca Edwards, Mrs. M. H. Berry, Maggie Powers, Jennie Ford, Ida Baldwin, Myra Taylor and Annie Harcourt.

Address of welcome.—J. E. Lanter. Response.—J. D. Clark.

The Association was next addressed by W. S. Griffith. Subject—"The Responsibility of a Teacher."

The program which had been packed could not be carried out on account of the absence of several who had been absent in the morning. There was suggested that the teachers ask some questions of interest. A query box was prepared and the following questions asked:

"Do you think that whipping a child to prevent swearing is simply temporary restraint and not a permanent effect upon the conscience?"

"What must be done with young men who think themselves too large to be corrected?"

"Should the subject of vocal music be added to the Common School Course?"

Discussions of these subjects deferred till afternoon session.

Adjourned for dinner.—The Association was called to order by Mr. R. F. Scudder. Exercises opened with song and prayer. Discussion of the queries taken up. Work of School Trustees was presented by Mr. P. H. Sullivan. Improved methods of teaching and the difficulties in successful teaching discussed by C. F. Brock, Barrell Moore, W. S. Griffith, J. D. Clark, R. F. Scudder and Mrs. M. H. Berry. Committee on resolutions appointed, and reported the following:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Madison County Teachers' Association, do hereby commend to the Board of Education, the Board of School Trustees and the Board of School Directors, the importance of the Christian church and a great grand-son of Alexander Campbell; his noble life and his noble death, and his noble legacy to the world.

Resolved, That we especially thank the citizens of Runyon Grove District for their kind hospitality and the entertainment they have given us, and the trustees who have honored us with their presence.

W. S. Griffith, Maggie Powers, Mrs. M. H. Berry, Ida Baldwin and G. F. Brock, Committee.

A motion was offered and adopted that the minutes and resolutions be published in the county papers. The place and time of next meeting discussed but no definite arrangements made.

On motion the Association adjourned. NANNIE HARGROVE, Secretary.
